Aspiring IT Specialist / Computer
System Servicing (NC II) Holder

About Me

Hi, I'm Dj!

A first year college IT student at PHINMA Araullo University, who is hardworking, determined, and passionate about learning in the field of Information Technology. I believe that every challenge is an opportunity to grow, which is why I always push myself to improve my skills in computer systems, troubleshooting, and other IT related tasks. I value discipline, teamwork, and perseverance, and I never give up easily even when things get difficult. While studying, I also work to support myself and my family, and this experience has taught me responsibility, time management, and strength in facing life's challenges. Through all of this, I stay motivated to reach my goals and continue improving, with the dream of becoming a skilled and reliable IT professional who can make a positive impact in the future.

"May your desire to chase your dreams always be stronger than your fear of trying"

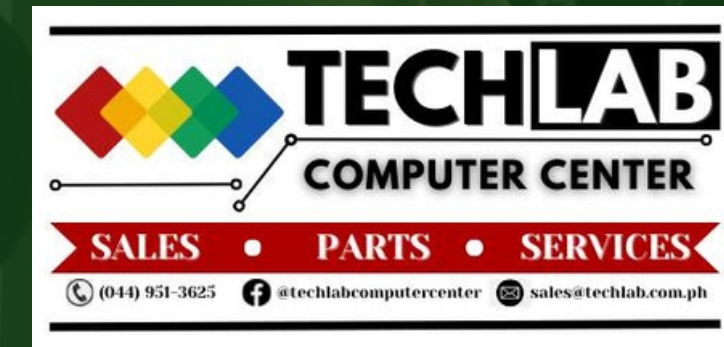

Joint Delivery Voucher Program (JDVP) - Techlab Computer Center February 2025

- Gained hands-on experience in computer system servicing and IT support.
- Performed maintenance, PC assembly, formatting, and software installation.
- Completed 320 hours of training and passed the NCII-CSS Assessment.

WORK EXPERIENCE

My Creative Side

I enjoy editing photos and videos as a hobby, as it allows me to express my creativity and improve my design skills. At the same time, I love writing and expressing my thoughts through words, as I continue to grow as an aspiring author and writer.

BE A KAPWA BUILDING A BETTER AND KINDER SOCIETY

"KAPWA MEANS SEEING OTHERS AS PART OF OURSELVES. BY PRACTICING KAPWA, WE BUILD PEACE AND UNITY IN OUR COMMUNITY."

WAYS TO PRACTICE KAPWA

Volunteerism
Take part in school, church, or barangay projects like clean-up drives, feeding programs, or helping during events. Giving your time and effort without expecting anything in return shows real kapwa.

Bayanihan
Work together with neighbors to solve problems or help in times of need, like carrying heavy loads, fixing houses, or assisting families during emergencies. Bayanihan makes the community stronger and united.

Kindness to Strangers
A simple smile, offering directions, or helping someone who needs assistance can already show kapwa. Small acts of kindness create a ripple effect that inspires others to do good as well.

Respect and Empathy
Listen to others with patience, understand their feelings, and treat everyone fairly. Respect builds trust, while empathy helps us connect and support one another.

Sharing What You Have
Whether it's food, school supplies, or your time, sharing with others—especially those in need strengthens the spirit of kapwa and reminds us that we are all connected.

Caring for the Environment
Joining clean-up drives, planting trees, or simply throwing trash properly shows that you care not only for yourself but also for others who share the same community and future.

Let us live with empathy and unity. When we see others as our kapwa, we create a community where kindness, respect, and love can grow. Together, we can build a better and stronger society where no one is left behind.
"Kapwa Builds Peace, Kapwa Builds Us."

STOP CORRUPTION
FIGHT AGAINST CORRUPTION

WHAT IS CORRUPTION
Corruption is the dishonest or illegal use of power by people in authority for personal gain.

- Public money that should be used for schools, hospitals, and roads is stolen.
- Some government projects become ghost projects, or unfinished projects.
- Communities continue to suffer from floods, poor services and weak infrastructure.
- Many people remain poor while only a few become richer.

THE PROBLEM

- Public money that should be used for schools, hospitals, and roads is stolen.
- Some government projects become ghost projects or unfinished projects.
- Communities continue to suffer from floods, poor services, and weak infrastructure.
- Many people remain poor while only a few become richer.

WHO SUFFERS THE MOST?
The poor and ordinary citizens suffer the most from corruption because they lose access to services like education, healthcare, and public projects.

WHY STOPPING CORRUPTION IS IMPORTANT?
Corruption damages the country and the future of its people.

- It weakens the government and public trust.
- It increases poverty and unfairness.
- It steals opportunities like education, healthcare and jobs.
- Many people remain poor while only a few become richer.

THE CONSEQUENCES OF CORRUPTION

- Corruption and Misuse of Funds - The nation's money that should be for the poor is stolen.
- Weak Leadership - Choosing a leader based on popularity instead of capability results in bad management.
- Flawed Policy and Decision-making - This causes a lack of jobs, low wages, and weak public services.
- Lack of Information - When voters are uninformed about a candidate's track record and plan, poor choices are made.

WHY THIS FIGHT MATTERS?
Fighting corruption helps build a better future

- Public funds can be used for education, healthcare, and housing.
- Communities can receive better services.
- Honest businesses and workers can succeed fairly.
- Citizens can live with dignity justice, and equality.

HOW PEOPLE CAN FIGHT CORRUPTION?

- Stay informed and fact-check information.
- Speak up against corruption.
- Vote wisely and choose leaders with integrity.
- Report corruption and illegal activities.
- Support honest leaders and responsible businesses.

LET US NOT BE SILENT
Speak Up Against Corruption

ETHICS VS MORALITY

ETHICS
The rules and standards that guide what is right and wrong in society.

MORALITY
The personal sense of right and wrong shaped by values and beliefs.

A student sees their best friend cheat on a test.

Tell the teacher the truth

Protect

Speak the truth or protect a friend?

A classmate is late almost every day because their house is far from school.

Follow the rules or understand their struggle?

WHY ETHICS AND MORALITY MATTER

ETHICS IN SOCIETY

- Creates justice and order
- Builds trust in rules and leaders
- Guides fair decisions

MORALITY IN INDIVIDUALS

- Shapes character
- Inspires compassion
- Promotes kindness and respect

Ethics shape society, morality shapes humanity.
